

Drum facilitator Ted Nichols from Drums Around the World will lead the camp. Mr. Nichols is a drum artist for MEINL Percussion. As a percussionist he has been teaching all aspects of percussion for the last 44 years. Ted currently teaches percussion at Salisbury University and has led world drum ensembles for the last 20 years. In 2008, he traveled to Ghana with the University of Maryland Eastern Shore Jazz Band while teaching percussion at UMES. He studied the local African music and developed a passion for ethnic drumming.

We will provide all drum and percussion instruments. Students will explore ethnic rhythms featuring Latin, African and Brazilian. Sessions will include snare drum technique including rudimental development and basic reading skills. They will also study basic drum styles: rock, jazz, Latin and soloing techniques.

Join us for a fun camp exploring the aspects of rhythm using percussion instruments. The camp also develops teamwork, creativity, leadership, listening skills, musical concepts and much more. The Extreme Percussion camp is 9am- 3:30 pm daily from July 10-14, 2017 for students from grades 5-10. The week will culminate with a special concert. Students will have a warm up activity each morning teaching cooperation and listening skills.

Class information.

The camp is located at the Salisbury Christian School, 807 Parker Road, Salisbury, MD 21804. The cost will be $290 that includes sheet music of the styles we study. The following link or QR code will take you to the registration page for the Extreme Percussion Camp. Call 410-546-0661 for more information.

<http://www.salisburychristian.org> Look under the About tab and choose TREK Summer Camp go to Active.com Summer Scholars and choose the bottom view link and choose Extreme Percussion.

<https://campscui.active.com/orgs/Salisbury-ChristianSchool#/selectSessions/1997701>